The Methodist Church in Montgomery is nearly as old as the town. In 1838 Isaac Strickland was assigned by the Mississippi Conference to the Texas District which embraced all the territory from the Brazos to the Trinity Rivers. Montgomery was headquarters for the district.

According to the diary of Isaac Strickland, the Methodist congregation was organized in the home of William Sanders in 1839. The congregation built its first church soon afterwards. As a needed result, the first Protestant parsonage in Texas was voted in quarterly conference in 1842, to be built and equipped with heavy furniture. A historical marker designating the site of the first Methodist parsonage in Texas stands between the present church and the Old Cemetery adjacent to the church. The home was built by local carpenters and paid for by subscriptions of the congregation. Local cabinet makers made the furniture.

After many years the first parsonage was replaced by a new one on College Street. It was sold to the Methodist Church by John L. Dupree and wife Mary Dupree, with Samuel Weisinger ("grandfather of George Samuel Weisinger, the late husband of Nellie B. Weisinger of Montgomery"), W.T. Nobles, and Jno. M. Gary, trustees of Methodist Episcopal Church South in the town of Montgomery . . . being same as conveyed to J.L. Dupree by F.A. Sinkler and Mary A. Sinkler by deed dated July 2d, A.D. 1875 . . . bounded on the north by College Street, on the east by G.B. Evans, and on the south by a lot of Mrs. H.R. Bell, and on the west by lot of James Harper and being same property deeded to Mary A. Jones by L.E. Chilton by deed of date 17th day of February, 1872, to have to hold . . . as a place of residence for the use and occupancy of preachers of Methodist Episcopal Church South who may from time to time be appointed to said place subject to the usage and discipline of said church." John L. Dupree, who sold the house as a parsonage, was a prominent citizen of Montgomery who served as County Judge, the youngest judge to serve to that date. It was in the same house that C.L.S. Jones, professor of the Jones Academy, one
